U-turn plea over primary schools

CRITICS have expressed "huge disappointment" after ministers rowed back on plans for all primary-aged pupils in England to return to school this term.

Education Secretary Gavin Williamson admitted yesterday that not all children will go back.

Tory MP Robert Halfon said the UK is a "strange country" for prioritising reopening pubs over schools.

He added: "I think the Government should definitely think again on this and continue with a phased reopening of schools."

Brit unis fall in world rankings

THREE-quarters of listed British universities have fallen in world rankings, according to new data.

A total of 63 of the 84 UK institutions ranked in the QS World University Rankings have seen their positions drop in the new table.

Overall, 18 British universities made it to the top 100, with Oxford ranking highest in fifth, despite a drop of one place from last year.

Cambridge is just below in seventh, while Imperial College London and University College London both also made the top 10.

Pay cuts causing mental problems

NEARLY four in five people who've had a pay cut in their household say it has affected their own mental wellbeing, a survey has found.

Just over 60 per cent of full and part-time employees surveyed at the end of April said that a member of their household had endured a salary reduction.

Almost four-fifths of these said that having a salary reduction in their household had affected their own mental wellbeing, with increased anxiety and stress, sleepless nights and a deterioration in relationships.

NAZI BIT OF WORK: Cutter, who entered contest under name of death camp

MISS HITLER CAGED

Four jailed for membership of neo-Nazi group

A FORMER Miss Hitler beauty pageant contestant is one of four neo-Nazi "diehards" jailed for being members of a banned terrorist group.

Alice Cutter and her Nazi-admiring ex-partner Mark Jones were convicted of belonging to National Action after a trial in March, alongside their co-accused Garry Jack and Connor Scothern.

Sentencing at Birmingham Crown Court yesterday, Judge Paul Farrer QC told Jones he had played "a significant role in the continuation of the organisation", after its ban in December 2016.

To Cutter, he said: "You never held an organisational or leadership role", but added she was a "trusted confidante" of one of the group's leaders, as well as being in a "committed relationship" with Jones.

Extreme right-wing group National Action (NA), labelled "racist, anti-Semitic and homophobic" by the then-home secretary Amber Rudd, was banned after a series of rallies and incidents, one of which included praise of the murder of MP Jo Cox.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Cutter, 23, who entered the Miss Hitler beauty contest as Miss Buchenwald – a reference to the Second World War death camp – had denied ever being a member, despite attending the group's rallies, in which banners reading "Hitler was right" were raised.

Leader

Jurors were also shown messages in which the waitress joked about gassing synagogues, using a Jew's head as a football, and exclaiming "Rot in hell, bitch", after hearing of Ms Cox's murder.

Jones, a former member of the British National Party's youth wing and a rail engineer, was described at trial as a "leader and strategist" who played a "prominent and active role".

The 25-year-old, originally the group's London regional organiser, acknowledged posing for a photo while delivering a Nazi-style salute and holding an NA flag in Buchenwald's execution room during a trip to Germany in 2016.

Prosecutors described Cutter and Jones, both of Sowerby Bridge, near Halifax, West Yorkshire, as well as Jack and Scothern as "active" group members, even after the ban.

Jack, 24, of Shard End, Birmingham, had attended almost every meeting of NA's Midlands sub-group.

He also had a previous conviction, from before the group was banned, for plastering Birmingham's Aston University campus with NA's racially charged stickers, some reading "Britain is ours, the rest must go."

Scothern, 19, of Nottingham, was "considered to be future leadership material" and had distributed almost 1,500 stickers calling for a "final solution" – in reference to the Nazis' genocide against Jews.

Cutter was jailed for three years, while Jones received a five-and-a-half-year prison term.

Jack was sentenced to four-and-a-half-years in prison, and Scothern was handed a sentence of detention for 18 months.

Speaking ahead of their sentencing, the director of public prosecutions Max Hill QC described NA members as "diehards" who "hark back to the days of not just anti-Semitism, but the Holocaust, the Third Reich in Germany".

BIG ROLE: Jones

NHS waiting up to 10m by Christmas

AROUND 10million people will be on the waiting list for NHS treatment by the end of the year – more than double the current figure, health bosses have said.

Projections by the NHS Confederation show the combined effects of keeping up social distancing, the backlog of treatments and challenges around staffing mean the list is expected to rise from around 4.2million now.

This is the most realistic scenario, and assumes the health service making a steady return to full capacity.

The pessimistic scenario assumes a second wave of Covid-19, pushing the waiting list to around 11million by Christmas.

Drivers warned on hay fever medicine

DRIVERS who take hay fever remedies are being advised to carefully check their medicines prior to getting behind the wheel.

Some antihistamine drugs – the type which helps reduce the sneezing and itching – could have an adverse impact on a driver's ability.

Road safety boss Neil Worth said: "Some antihistamine medicines have a sedative effect. In other words they can make you tired, dizzy or groggy, and will therefore compromise your vision and reaction time."

"It's important to read those warnings on the labels. If your driving is impaired and you cause a collision."

Three plead on cocaine charges

THREE men have pleaded not guilty to importing a medicinal form of cocaine into the country.

Benn Bath, 32, Staplehurst, Kent; Joshua Paige, 27, High Halstow, Rochester, Kent; and Milos Bigovic, 29, of Pozarevac, Serbia, appeared at Winchester Crown Court yesterday charged with importing the class A drug cocaine hydrochloride in April 2020.

Bigovic is also accused of possessing the drug with intent to supply on April 26.

After the defendants entered their pleas to the charges, Judge Andrew Barnett adjourned the case until August 14.

MAYOR: LOSE LONDON'S SLAVE LINKS

STATUES and street names in London with links to slavery "should be taken down", the city's mayor has said.

Sadiq Khan (left) said he had set up a commission to review the capital's landmarks to ensure they reflect its diversity.

The move comes after anti-racism protesters tore down a statue of slave trader Edward Colston in Bristol on Sunday.

Mr Khan said London had "an uncomfortable truth" with historical links to slavery.

The Commission for Diversity in the Public Realm will review the city's landmarks and consider which should be celebrated before making recommendations.

Mr Khan said London was "one of the most diverse cities in the world", but said recent Black Lives Matter protests had highlighted that the city's statues, plaques and street names largely reflect Victorian Britain.

"It is an uncomfortable truth that our nation and city owes a large part of its wealth to its role in the slave trade," he said.

"While this is reflected in our public realm, the contribution of many of our communities to life in our capital has been wilfully ignored."

WEE PROBLEM:
Amy and Travis
(below) said NO

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

STARS of historical drama Vikings refused to film a sex scene where a character PISSED on another.

Actress Amy Bailey, who plays Queen Kwenethrith, said she and Travis Fimmel, who plays Ragnar Lothbrok, managed to convince show bosses to leave out the water sports.

She said: "There was one time, in season three I think, I was in the big cafeteria at the film studios and the director came in and he said something like, 'You have to pee on Travis'."

"And I went, 'You've got to be kidding me, man. You guys!'"

She said the actors are asked to do a lot on the popular Amazon Prime show, but sometimes they'd rather not.

"Every time we got a new episode, I would look through the script like, 'Oh God, what's she going to have to do?'," she said.

"And I went, 'You've got to be kidding me, man. You guys!'"

"Originally, we had all these sex scenes and we were like, 'Let's make it more mysterious and it'll be a more interesting relationship'."

"Because even though the characters bonded over power and circumstances, they weren't in love."

"Nobody wants to do sex scenes... I had to do plenty of other stuff though."

"Every time they cut a sex scene I'm like, 'Thank God'."

"No actor wants to do it, they're embarrassing."

NOW ELMER FUDD CAN'T SHOOT AT BUGS BUNNY

WARNER Bros is stripping Bugs Bunny's enemy Elmer Fudd of his rifle in a new Looney Tunes cartoon series.

The change is the latest incarnation of the iconic animated series is a response to the gun violence in the US.

Historically, the toons have largely revolved around Fudd's persistent chase of the carrot-chomping Bugs, with his classic catchphrase "What's up, Doc?"

Fudd, who is known for his own catchphrase, "Shhh. Be vewy, vewy quiet, I'm hunting wabbits," gets outsmarted by Bugs at every turn, even though he's always had his trusty shotgun at his side – until now.

"We're not doing guns," said Peter Brownhardt, executive producer of the new series.

"But we can do cartoony violence – TNT, the Acme stuff."

Fudd won't be empty-handed, however – he'll now use a SCYTHER to try to bag Bugs.

Potter lays into 'transphobic' creator Rowling

HARRY Potter has had a pop at his creator J.K. Rowling after the author suggested online that "people who menstruate" are, in fact, women.

In a statement posted on an LGBT suicide prevention charity website, the boy wizard – played on screen by actor Daniel Radcliffe (above) – said: "Transgender women are women."

"Any statement to the contrary erases the identity and dignity of transgender people."

Rowling had been criticised for tweets taking issue with the phrase "people who menstruate".

Potter felt "compelled to say something" as Rowling was responsible for the "course his life has taken".

Rowling had tweeted at the weekend about an article discussing "people who menstruate".

She said: "I'm sure there used to be a word for those people. Someone help me out. Wumben? Wimpund? Woomud?"

In response, she was called "transphobic".

Sexual assault fiend filmed store loo user

A SEX offender filmed a customer in a department store toilet using his mobile, a court heard.

Steven Every, 28, went on to sexually assault two men in a separate incident.

Swansea Crown Court heard Every has a previous conviction for feeling up another man's cock while pretending to be a police officer and carrying out a body search.

Every, of Meidrim, Carmarthenshire, had previously pleaded guilty to voyeurism, two counts of sexual assault and one count of assault by beating when he appeared in the dock for sentencing.

He was sentenced to a three-year community order and was made the subject of a sexual harm prevention order for the next five years.

SEE...IT'S NOT ALL BAD!

AFTER watching Star Wars: The Phantom Menace, it was pretty much accepted that cinemagoers had witnessed the worst ever film in Hollywood history.

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk to the turkey that is The Last Days of American Crime.

The new thriller – about cops predicting crime before it happens – is so shit it's achieved an extremely rare 0% rating on the film review website Rotten Tomatoes.

Critics have noted similarities to concepts seen in movies like The Purge and Minority Report.

Graphic

And they have slated it, not least for its whopping 149-minute running time.

Helmed by Olivier Megaton, the director of Taken 2 and Taken 3, the movie is based on a 2009 graphic novel of the same name.

It stars Édgar Ramírez

Netflix stinker gets the thumbs-up for sex scene and is about two men and a woman planning the heist of the century before a government-broadcast signal wipes out crime forever.

The same critics point out that the idea of the film has been done umpteen times before – only much, much better.

But the good news is... the flick is not ENTIRELY shite.

After 45 minutes of wading through this unusually crap Netflix offering, there is, you will be relieved to hear, finally something to look at it.

And that is entirely down to Brummie-born star Anna Brewster, 34, whose pert boobs are on display in a raucous sex scene that takes place in a filthy, piss-soaked toilet.

One production source said: "Many of us were embarrassed working on this movie, but then Anna came along and gave us red faces for much better reasons."

NONCE PROBE BOSS BLASTS ANDREW

THE Duke of York has been accused of attempting to "falsely portray himself to the public as eager and willing to co-operate" with U.S. authorities investigating convicted sex offender Jeffrey Epstein.

Prince Andrew's legal team has insisted the royal has made three offers to help with the probe into his former associate – but the U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York said a request to schedule an interview has been repeatedly declined.

Geoffrey Berman, who is leading the Epstein inquiry, was responding to a statement issued by Andrew's lawyers on Monday.

The U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) has submitted a mutual legal assistance request to the Home Office to quiz the Queen's son as a witness in a criminal investigation into the disgraced financier.

Andrew's legal team said: "The Duke of York has on at least three occasions this year offered his assistance as a witness to the DOJ."

"Unfortunately, the DOJ has reacted to the first two offers by breaching their own confidentiality rules and claiming that the duke has offered zero co-operation."

Mr Berman hit back, saying: "If Prince Andrew is, in fact, serious about cooperating with the federal investigation, our doors remain open and we await word of when we should expect him."

Andrew's public life was left in tatters after a disastrous Newsnight interview about his friendship with Epstein.

He stepped back from royal duties but then became the focus of U.S. authorities who wanted to question him about the financier, who killed himself in his jail cell while awaiting trial for sex trafficking.

McCANN INVESTIGATION

HORROR AT SKY MADDIE GAFFE

VIEWERS were shocked after Sky News accidentally played a video of Prince Andrew during a segment on a new suspect in the missing persons case of Madeleine McCann.

During the news bulletin, host Dermot Murnaghan opened the show with their "top story".

He said: "We have actual evidence Madeleine McCann is dead. German prosecutors reveal more on their investigation into the suspect, Christian B."

Unfortunately, instead of showing clips of Madeleine, the prosecutors or even the actual suspect in question, Sky News showed a video of troubled Prince Andrew.

1,822 deaths is lowest for eight weeks

LESS than a fifth of deaths registered in the week ending May 29 in England and Wales involved coronavirus – the lowest proportion since the week lockdown was imposed, figures show.

There were 9,824 deaths registered in the week ending May 29 – a fall from the previous week but still 1,653 higher than what would usually be expected, the Office for National Statistics (ONS) said.

Of these, 1,822 involved Covid-19 – 18.5 per cent of the total that week and the lowest number of weekly coronavirus deaths for eight weeks.

It is also the first time the proportion of weekly coronavirus deaths has fallen to under a fifth since the week lockdown was imposed – the week ending March 27 – when the virus claimed 5% of the deaths.

Excess deaths have passed 63,500, with Tuesday's figures showing 57,961 excess deaths in England and Wales between March 21 and May 29.

Cop's Wee bit of advice about outdoor romps

A COP has offered some tongue-in-cheek advice to couples considering an al fresco romp during lockdown.

Sussex Roads Policing officer PC Tom Van Der Wee urged people to wait until they were in the safety of their own home before "engaging in sexual acts".

It came after he was called to bollock a couple who had been caught in the act in the open air.

PC Van Der Wee wrote on Twitter: "If you're going to meet up with your beloved for a picnic, please wait until you get home before having dessert."

"(The) couple (were) located and suitable words of advice (were) given."

His plan was ditched and he was fired after objections from Madagascar president Andry Rajoelina.

BALLS TO THE SEX BAN!

NO, PRIME MINISTER! Lockdown won't stop randy Brits meeting up for nookie

More than half of Brits say that Boris' no-bonking rule is barmy

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

MORE than half of Brits oppose the summer sex ban, according to a new survey.

It found that 54 per cent of people are against the new rule making it illegal for people to have sex with someone outside their household.

The figure rises to 68% for those under 30.

The number of people who have had sex in breach of the lockdown has doubled in the last month.

Only a fifth had breached the rules by the end of April – but this figure has risen to 42% in the wake of the controversy over Boris Johnson's top adviser Dominic Cummings.

The results are from a survey of 2,000 people by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading affairs site.

It showed that 64% of respondents said the ban needed changing because it applies to all ages and there are no exemptions for younger people.

Three-quarters of those surveyed (74%) said the policy was unworkable in the long-term because 'the government cannot ban people from having sex'.

The poll showed a big rise in lockdown breaches.

More than half of under-30s (52%) said they had had sex in breach of the rules since the lockdown came into place.

The figure falls to 29% for those under 40 and 16% for those under 50.

Sales assistant Claire, 32, from Sefton, Liverpool, has had sex with two different men in breach of the lockdown.

She said: "I'd do it again – it is crazy that the government is banning people from having sex."

"The fact is that most young people outside of high risk groups have a very small chance of getting seriously ill from Covid."

"I know the restrictions are in place to stop us from infecting other people, but I cannot live in a cocoon forever. "I live in a flat on my own and I need human contact. I have a high sex drive and need physical contact."

Divorcee Claire had sex the first time in breach of lockdown in April – with a married man she had met on IllicitEncounters.com just before the restrictions came into place.

She said: "We started seeing each other just before lockdown and had sex a few times before the clampdown."

Naughty

"We stuck to the rules for about a month and just Facetimed each other – putting on little sex shows to keep the spark alive."

"After a month, we could wait no longer and he came to my flat for an afternoon of fun."

"We couldn't keep our hands off each other and had sex four times. I had various outfits to spice things up – I was a French maid, then a nurse."

"Finally, I was a police officer. We played out this scenario where I had caught him breaching lockdown and I punished him for being 'naughty'."

"We see each other every couple of weeks at my flat and always have sex."

Claire has also started a new relationship with a second married man she met on IllicitEncounters.com.

She said: "He contacted me about a month ago and we had sex at my flat last week after I cooked him dinner."

"It was great and I cannot wait to see him again."

IllicitEncounters.com sex and relationship expert Jessica Leoni said: "The government are mad if they think they can stop people having sex."

"We all know the risks from Covid and people are smart enough to weigh them up and gauge whether they want to spend the rest of the summer without any kind of physical comfort."

"It is bonkers that couples who were seeing each other before lockdown cannot even kiss each other under the rules, let alone have sex."

"Who is going to stick to that?"

TOWIE LAUREN IS BRACED FOR POST-LOCKDOWN LUST SPREE!

100 DATES: Busty Lauren

TOWIE stunna Lauren Goodger has revealed she is preparing for a post-lockdown lustathon! Lauren, 33, claimed she has lined up 100 dates for when lockdown permits.

She said: "In isolation, I've got so many guys asking me out and I've got about 100 dates lined up after this."

"I'm loving life and I'm getting lots of attention."

"I've got a lot more time on my hands to respond and talk to people and normally I don't really bother. I feel really confident at the minute."

Lauren said her tastes have changed over the years and more personality is way more important to her than looks.

Admitting she has "had bad boys and talks to footballers", Lauren said she now likes "boys who are not as good-looking but have sexy personalities".

She admits she would love to get involved with the TOWIE 10-year reunion and claimed that "whole fing show was about her relationship" with ex Mark Wright, who she dated on and off for 11 years, and that she gave "TV gold".

She said her engagement party with Mark, also 33, was "one of her favourite moments" on the show, despite them breaking up and losing their friendship.

Lauren was with him from the age of 15 and the couple got engaged on the show in 2011, but they split five months later.

She said: "The engagement party was good because it was the first time my mum and dad were in the same room ever. It wasn't just about the engagement."

"It was beautiful, the support my family showed me at the time. It's not like that now, I hardly bloody see them."

Lauren has since dated Jake McLean and Joey Morrison – the latter was in jail for much of their relationship and Lauren has since said she regrets that romance.

'Out of it' strip search drunk bit PW's thumb

A DRUNKEN woman who was "absolutely out of it" reacted with fury when she realised that she was naked – after a strip search – and bit a policewoman on her thumb.

Kelly Bartholomew, 33, didn't have any idea where she was when she was roused at the Grimsby police custody suite and resisted attempts to handcuff her, a court heard.

She had earlier been found slumped on a pavement and became aggressive before angrily punching a policeman in the face.

Bartholomew (above), of Scunthorpe, Lincs, admitted two offences of assaulting police and two theft offences when she appeared before Grimsby magistrates.

Ian Durant, mitigating, said when Bartholomew woke up in custody, she found she was naked after being strip-searched.

"She had not a clue where she was at that moment," he said. "She apologises."

Bartholomew was jailed for 16 weeks.

NEIGHBOURS watched in horror as a naked loon chased a dog around his back garden – then bonked it!

Rashid Khan, 32, was seen outside his apartment chasing his dog while naked, before changing his strategy and eventually enticing it with a piece of meat.

A neighbour saw him grab the dog from behind and allegedly sexually assault it.

When cops arrived on the scene in Urbana, Illinois, they discovered that Khan is receiving outpatient treatment for a 2017 aggravated battery conviction for exposing himself.

He was locked up when authorities learned he was not taking his medication.

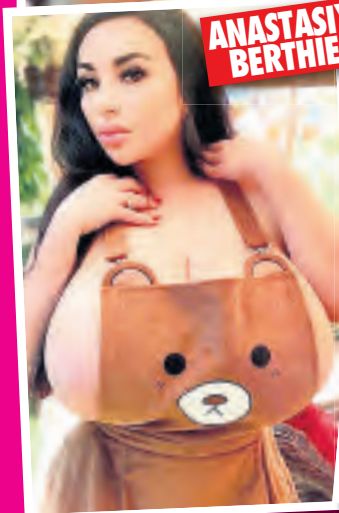

Court records show Khan has other prior convictions for theft and parole violation.

LIQUID LUST:
Zoe was addicted to water

CRUEL online commentators piled in on former Blue Peter presenter Zoe Salmon after she revealed she'd had an addiction to WATER.

One social media wag even went so far as to suggest Zoe, 40, could use her affliction to PISS on him!

She had been speaking out about her unhealthy water addiction, which saw her dangerously drinking up to eight litres of H2O a day.

Death

She said she would start every day with a litre of water to help her metabolism and would have downed another two litres before lunch – taking her above the recommended daily intake of just two litres.

But the Northern Irish star was left reeling when she visited her GP six months ago and was told that drinking too much water can lead to brain swelling that causes seizures, brain damage, coma and even death.

Op docs pull fish from man's arse

A MAN had a whole FISH removed from his arse after he sat on it "by accident".

Eyewatering operating theatre footage shows medics removing the dead blue tilapia from the patient's body at hospital, as a nurse exclaims: "It stinks so much!"

Reports did not specify the size of the fish, but the species usually measures between 12 to 16 inches long.

The man was treated at the Zhaoqing First People's Hospital in Guangdong province of southern China.

Doctors made the discovery during an X-ray scan after the 30-year-old man had gone to the hospital complaining of severe abdominal pain.

The man claimed the fish slipped into his rectum after he accidentally sat on it.

By GRACE HOOPER

She revealed: "I feel like I'd trained my body to crave water all the time. I thought it was a brilliant thing to do."

Drinking too much water can disturb the body's electrolyte balance and increase levels of sodium and magnesium, which lead to headaches and muscle cramps.

It didn't take long for the Daily Mail website's notorious "under the line" commentators to offer up their vile pearls of wisdom.

In a direct reference to sexual water sports, Ilford's Hardest in Ilford said "I'd let her stream on me any day".

While tombolaADM in Ipswich said "Zoe SALMON need I say more", and Illovetarted in Liverpool wrote "This article is sponsored by Tena Lady".

Insta porn star admits public tugs

A PORN star has pleaded guilty to a string of public masturbation charges which took place while he was on holiday.

Brazilian Fabricio Da Silva Claudino, 31 (above), faced 15 counts of obscene exposure and one of offensive behaviour at Central Local Court in Sydney, Australia, after he performed lewd acts on film and promoted the videos on porn sites and social media.

Known online as FabricioMonkey, the grot star has an army of 30,000 followers on Instagram and was "supporting himself" through his online vids.

The court heard that Claudino exposed his penis and filmed himself several times near his flat between September 2019 and February this year.

On one occasion his public sex act was in view of Inner Sydney High School.

Claudino has been held in custody since February.

Cole Carini

A SEXUALLY frustrated man blew off his WANKING hand while trying to make homemade explosives.

Cole Carini, 23, planned to use the explosives for a revenge attack on "hot cheerleaders".

Carini went to a health clinic in Richlands, Virginia, suffering from an amputated hand, amputated fingers on the opposite hand and shrapnel wounds to the neck and throat.

He claimed it was from a devastating lawnmower accident – but investigators found his garden overgrown.

Instead, they found evidence of a recent explosion – including explosives materials, rusty nails, pipes and pieces of flesh.

Killer

They also found parts of a scorched letter that referenced tension "as he now approached the stage of hot cheerleaders," according to court documents.

"I will not be afraid of the consequences no matter what I will be heroic I will make a statement like Elliott Rodgers [sic]," he wrote, referring to 22-year-old killer Elliot Rodger, who was hailed as a leader of the "incel" movement.

Rodger killed himself in 2014 after killing six people, including two women, outside a girls' dorm at a university near Santa Barbara, California.

He left behind a manifesto that has been a rallying point for the online "incels" – short for "involuntarily celibate" – who justify violence against women as revenge for rejecting them as sexual partners.

Carini is in custody charged with making false statements to law enforcement.

UP for it Amy Green is looking forward to the shops being open next week – because she needs a new vibrator!
 Amy, 28, from Sheffield, reckons she must have worn out her favourite wand vibrator with overuse during lockdown.
 The 32D beauty said: “When I am bored, I masturbate – and I’ve been bored a lot!
 “My favourite toy died on me last week and I am desperate to get a new one. So as soon as the shops open, I’ll be there!
 “Thankfully I’ve got a lot of back ups to keep me going for now – but I do miss my fave!”

DANI: WONKY BOOBS MADE ME FEEL LIKE A FREAK!

FEELING SEXY:
Danielle
says op has given her new confidence

DANIELLE Lloyd has revealed she felt like a "freak" before her recent extensive plastic surgery and was "embarrassed" to be naked in front of her husband because of her "wonky boobs".

But the model, 36, says cosmetic procedures have helped "spice up things" in the bedroom with her electrician spouse Michael O'Neill.

The mum-of-four underwent a breast augmentation, liposuction and a Brazilian bum-lift in September 2019 at a Turkish clinic, which she said has transformed her confidence and made her feel "sexy" again.

Underwear

Speaking in an interview, Danielle said: "I just felt shit about myself. It gave me so much confidence.

"I felt so sexy again and like the old me. Now I'm happy with my body, I don't look at myself and think I look like a 'freak'.

"Before, even getting naked in front of Michael made me embarrassed over my wonky boobs.

"He didn't even notice, but when I showed the before and afters, he said, 'I didn't even realise how bad they were'."

Danielle revealed that things have now "spiced up" in the bedroom as she's able to wear sexy underwear again – and it even influenced her decision to start her OnlyFans page.

She set up an account on the X-rated subscription site in October and offers topless snaps for £115. Michael, 33, supports the decision and even takes the racy snaps of her.

Danielle insisted: "Why should I be embarrassed. The modelling industry has changed massively since I started.

"Obviously, a lot of the lads' mags aren't around anymore, and even most of the daily women's mags seem to have gone.

"A lot of the stuff has gone online now, and that's why I love using OnlyFans. I'm using it to speak to all my fans that have been following me for the past decade and also my brand new fans and subscribers."

She added: "In the night, that's when I do my content for OnlyFans, when the children go to bed.

"But I also do some content in the gym because people like to see what I'm doing in there.

"And also when I go to the spa looking sexy in my bikini!"

Funeral five die in plane crash

FIVE members of a family died when their plane crashed – on the way to a FUNERAL.

The cause of the tragedy remains unclear.

The victims were identified as Shawn Lamont, 41, his wife, Jody, 43, and their children, Jayce, six, and Alice, four.

Also killed was pilot and plane owner Larry Pruitt, 67, who was the father of Jody.

The crash in woods near Lake Oconee, Georgia, left no survivors.

The plane, a twin-engine Piper PA-31T, was flying to Indiana and had taken off from Williston, Florida.

The local sheriff said the family had planned to attend a funeral in New Castle, Indiana.

'ANTI-RACIST' IN BLACKFACE ROW

A MAN was arrested after showing up at an anti-racism protest while BLACKED UP.

The man, whose name was not released by officials, was filmed getting into a shouting match with demonstrators after protest organisers asked him to leave.

"If I want to put this on my face then I can put this on my face!" the man can be heard saying in the clip before he was hauled off to the lock-up.

"You're fking disrespectful!" a demonstrator at a protest in Toronto, Canada, shouts back.

The demonstration was one of several to take place worldwide in response to the police killing of George Floyd in Minneapolis.

Blackface is remarkably popular in Canada. Even the country's self-righteous Prime Minister, Justin Trudeau, was once photographed blacked up as a young man.

AS GERMAN STRIP CLUB REOPENS WITH DRIVE-IN SOCIALLY-DISTANCED SHOWS, HERE ARE SOME OTHER BABES IN...

By JAYNE FERGUSON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A DRIVE-THRU strip club is offering customers socially distant entertainment for the first time in two months.

Randy motorists queued up in Landshut, Bavaria, to see live performances from pole dancers and DJs.

Shows take place on Fridays and Saturdays between 11pm and 3am and cost 35 euros.

Tickets come with a glass of sparkling wine for motorists to drink as they watch the dancers.

Motorists are allowed into the tent but can only stay for around 15 minutes.

Loud

One of the DJs at the event, Micaela Schafer, said about the show: "I think it's great to make such a concept with the drive-in because everyone needs something again."

"They want to get out, they want to hear loud music, they want to celebrate."

Here in Britain, there are no socially-distanced strip shows – yet.

But to make up, here's five pages of pole-dancing strippers to keep you going until the strip clubs open again for real...

SENTENCE DEATH...

WAITRESS Barbara Nunn shivered in fear as she was locked in an industrial freezer, covering her eyes in horror as her friends were executed one by one. But, despite being shot in the head herself, she survived to point the finger at the perpetrator – evil Gerhard Hojan...

IGNORED PLEAS: Hojan shot 3 innocent people in the head

GERHARD Hojan has a macabre claim to fame...

He's not only been sent to Death Row once, he's been sent there TWICE.

The first time was in 2003 – a sentence that was overturned in 2016 after a new law was passed demanding a jury reach a unanimous decision before a prisoner is told he'll be executed by the state.

In November 2018, however, jurors in Florida were able to reach that decision – resulting in Hojan's second trip to Death Row.

For those who have studied his horrific 2002 crime – in which he gunned down three waffle house staff members in cold blood – Hojan, now 43, is right where he belongs.

One of the most harrowing aspects of the atrocities concerns teenage victim Christina Delarosa.

In her final, agonising moments, she screamed the name of her six-month-old son, Kyle.

Christina, just 17 at the time, would never see her baby again. She died from a gunshot wound to the head.

But, at the age of three, Kyle was in court to witness his mother's evil killer being served justice.

Terror

Jason Kalinowski, Kyle's father and Christina's boyfriend, said: "I don't think Gerhard Hojan deserves to live another day."

"Kyle doesn't know what happened yet, but he's going to suffer without his mother for the rest of his life."

"You just wonder what goes on in someone's mind that would make them want to do something like this."

Hojan also murdered 18-year-old Willie Absolu as he and accomplice Jimmy Mickel set about robbing the restaurant of less than $300.

Upon sentencing Hojan the first time around, Broward Circuit Judge Paul Backman said: "There can be no doubt that the victims suffered immeasurable fear and terror at the hands of Gerhard Hojan."

"The defendant's degree of ruthlessness can be seen when he shot an unarmed victim in the head – waitress Barbara Nunn – because she could identify him."

"He then proceeded to methodically murder the second victim, then the third victim."

Mental health expert Dr Michael Brannon testified in court, having reviewed Hojan's early years.

And he reported that Hojan had a medical history that included head injuries, alcohol abuse and extreme difficulties in school.

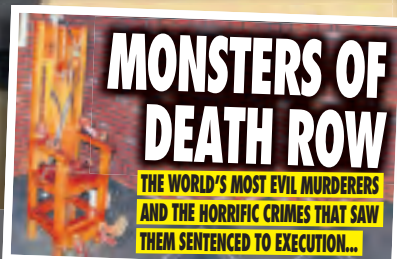

Handgun

Hojan was described as a 'stubborn youth' – behaviour exacerbated by a nasty head injury he suffered in a car accident when he was just seven years old.

But, despite all that, he had no prior criminal history and was actually well liked before he committed his terrible crime.

At the time, Hojan and Mickel were living in a trailer together, but Hojan had fallen into financial difficulties and was behind on his rent.

On March 11, 2002, Hojan and Mickel drove a truck to the Waffle House restaurant in Davie, Florida, arriving shortly before 4am. A handgun weighed heavy in Hojan's pocket.

MASTERMIND: But Jimmy Mickel was acquitted of murders

Three members of staff were working that morning – Christina and Barbara, who were waitresses, and Willie, who was a cook.

The two men ordered a waffle and drinks.

According to Barbara, there was a relaxed atmosphere as she personally knew Mickel because he occasionally worked as a cook in the same restaurant.

She also knew Hojan, because he was always with Mickel.

Little did Barbara know that Hojan and Mickel were busy discussing in hushed tones how they were going to rob the Waffle House.

Court documents reveal: "Hojan pointed a handgun toward the three employees and ordered them into the rear of the restaurant."

"He directed them towards the refrigerated storage area and placed them in the freezer section."

"Hojan left for a moment, locking the three of them in the freezer."

Shaking

"He returned after a minute and demanded their phones before leaving again."

"He then returned a second time and demanded their money."

"Christina gave him around $200 and Barbara placed $82 on the shelf. Hojan left again."

At this point, Barbara says she knew what was going to happen next, telling Willie and Christina, 'He's going to kill us'.

Willie, though, was

Sexist trolls monster WAGs over court spat

Coleen Rooney 'SACKS her lawyers' amid 'messy' Rebekah Vardy court battle after they claimed her 'case isn't very strong and she may have made mistakes along the way'

By BARNEY SAMUELS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

SEXIST trolls rounded on WAG superstars Coleen Rooney and Rebekah Vardy after news broke of the latest twist in their legal battle.

The glamorous pair were accused by scoundrels of lying "on their backs producing meal tickets."

At the weekend it was reported Coleen fired her legal team after they said her case against Rebekah "isn't very strong" and may have "mistakes".

The WAGs have been at loggerheads after Coleen, 34, publicly accused Rebekah, 38, of leaking stories about her last year, something she vehemently denies.

The pair's row began last October, when Coleen revealed details of her investigation into the source of a series of stories about her family, and claimed Becky was responsible for sharing the stories.

It was claimed the wife of Leicester City and England striker Jamie Vardy threatened to sue Coleen for libel.

Coleen, whose hubby

Wayne is currently player-coach at Derby County, is thought to be countering for breach of privacy.

But when the ongoing spat was reported on the Daily Mail website, the pair were deluged with hateful comments — much of it clearly sexist.

One reader spat: "More money than sense, who wastes so much money in these times for petty point scoring? Both of them need to do a day's work and not just on their backs producing meal tickets."

A pal of both women told Midweek Sport: "Comments like this do need to help. Whatever happened to 'Be Kind'?"

HOUSE OF HORROR: Diner in Davie, Florida

adamant that wasn't going to happen.

He put his arms around the two women, now shaking from the cold, and told them, 'Don't worry, we're going to be okay'.

Barbara replied, 'No we won't. I know them by name'.

When Hojan returned a third time, Barbara pleaded with him, saying, 'You don't have to do this. We can work it out'.

The state documents reveal: "Hojan pointed the gun at them and ordered all three to their knees."

"Christina and Willie complied but Barbara refused, begging him not to kill them."

"She jerked her head from side to side to avoid being shot."

"Hojan shot Barbara and then turned to the other two."

"He stood in the doorway while he shot all three of them."

"Christina's body was partially under the freezer shelf, where she had tried to hide from being shot. She had a gunshot wound to her neck, inflicted from 12 to 18 inches away, and a second wound to her left breast which severed her spine.

"She could move after the head wound and would have lived for several minutes, unable to move, after the spinal injury."

"Willie also had two gunshot wounds, one to the head and a defensive wound on his arm."

Crawled

"He was also shot from between six and 18 inches away."

Despite a gunshot wound to the head, Barbara regained consciousness.

She pushed Willy's body off her own and somehow crawled out of the freezer before summoning help.

When police arrived on the scene, she was able to tell them who was to blame.

Hojan knew he was cornered. When he was arrested and told he'd left a victim behind who had been able to identify him, he gave a videotaped confession describing exactly what he'd done.

And, despite him attempting to retract that confession when it was time for him to face the music in court, Hojan was convicted of two counts of murder.

A jury recommended the death penalty with a nine to three majority vote.

Grieving family members assumed Hojan would be executed by lethal injection for his horrific crime.

But, in 2016, a new law was passed making it necessary for a jury to reach a unanimous decision on the death penalty.

And that prompted the Florida Supreme Court to overturn Hojan's sentence.

That re-sentencing took place in November 2018. It meant survivor Barbara Nunn and family members of the deceased had to relive their ordeal all over again.

Barbara told how Christina had said to Hojan, 'I have a six-month-old son named Kyle. Am I going to see him again?'

Hojan was eventually sent back to Death Row on November 9.

His accomplice, 49-year-old Mickel, was acquitted of the murders.

He is serving five life sentences after being convicted of armed robbery and felony kidnapping charges.

During his sentencing in 2004, a judge told Mickel: "There is no question, having sat through both Mr Hojan's trial and your own trial, that you were the mastermind behind this entire thing."

"You manipulated Mr Hojan. He was there. He did your bidding."

"The three times that he left that freezer and went back to your location, there was absolutely no question what was going on at that point. You knew what he was doing."

"You were telling him, 'No witnesses, no witnesses, no witnesses'."

"He went back and forth. He went back and he pulled the trigger — and that pull of the trigger was a cold, calculated, premeditated act that was precipitated by your direction. There is no question about that."

STUNNING Penny Lee is hopeful she'll be able to get away on holiday at some time this year – because the 26-year-old does her best bonking in the sunshine!

Perky Penny, 32E, from Worthing, West Sussex, said: "I don't know what it is about the sun and the sea, but it really gets me in the mood."

"Maybe it's being abroad as well, but whenever I am on holiday the shagging is always brilliant."

And she revealed: "I feel so much freer and do all kinds of things that I don't when I'm back in Blighty!"

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Why didn't the cops in Portugal feel this nonce's collar?

DETECTIVE work is painstaking and difficult – but what it isn't is rocket science.

So just for instance, if a child suddenly goes missing in suspicious circumstances, the first thing is to launch a massive, intensive search – including appealing for help through the media.

At the same time you immediately flag up the local nonces, career criminals, weirdos and ne'er do wells who, no matter how horrible it is to point the finger, might be the perp.

Cops call this period the "golden hour" – when crime scenes are still fresh, trails still warm, clues still available, and sex kidnap monsters unable to travel too far because of police roadblocks.

It might all sound a bit Hollywood, but it's still the basics. And it can work, too.

Horror

So it makes you wonder what on earth the police in Portugal were doing in the hours after three-year-old Madeleine McCann was taken from a holiday apartment at a resort in Praia da Luz on the Algarve in 2007.

Last week, we read with horror that a man with a historic rap sheet that Moors murderer Ian Brady would have approved of is now the number one suspect in the world's most notorious modern missing persons case.

In fact, police in Christian Brückner's home country of Germany – where he's currently locked up on drugs offences and accused of raping a pensioner – aren't even sugar coating the Maddie case as a "missing person".

They're now calling it straight out as murder. Some might argue that a breakthrough in the case is welcome – which of course it is.

But Maddie went missing in 2007. And it's a staggering 13 years later that we're learning Brückner was a local-known tramp, kiddie fiddler, flasher, sex offender and drug dealer.

He was living out of the back of his ramshackle VW camper van and used to exchange cannabis for sex favours from youngsters in a hippy commune just five miles from where Maddie was snatched.

Suddenly, there's a flood of people coming forward to talk about this "angry" nutter – but where have they been all these years?

Surely the cops could have found these people earlier?

Or were they also indulging in the same crap a lot of people over here have been saying since day one – that the blame lies with Maddie's parents, Kate and Gerry McCann?

Those people would regularly infect social media with their own deluded detective work, insisting it could only be her mum and dad because, well, that's what their mates on Facebook agreed with.

Over the last week, though, these wannabe Miss Marples have slipped into silence as their claptrap is taken over by a more obvious and sinister reality.

Whether or not Brückner is to blame for Maddie's disappearance and, as the German police have it, death, remains to be seen.

At the time of writing, he hadn't even been charged.

But in some way, that's not even as important as the elephant in the room.

Which is – just what the fk were the Portuguese cops up to?

Jailed for nude cake break-in

A WOMAN has been jailed for breaking into a home where she was discovered NAKED, after helping herself to CAKE and washing her hair.

Angela Sue Everman, 42 (above), was convicted of burglary and banged up for two years.

Officers were sent to an apartment in December 2017 where they found the female resident on the front porch arguing with the intruder.

She said she had discovered Everman naked inside the flat after she'd broken a window to gain entry.

Everman had turned on the gas hob and eaten several snacks including a cake, a salad, popcorn and a biscuit, and she also drank a Pepsi.

The total value of the food was £7.

Everman, of Wichita, Kansas, said she went to the apartment because she had remembered it from a long time ago and knew the layout.

The court heard she was already on probation for drugs use.

Hotel bans fat guests to save its furniture!

OBESE people have been banned from a hotel over worries they might break the FURNITURE.

The Beachhotel Sahlenburg in Cuxhaven hopes to welcome visitors back to the beach after lockdown in Germany finally ends.

But to stay at the hotel you need to weigh less than 20 stone.

"For reasons of liability, we would like to point out that the interior is not suitable for people with a body weight of more than 130kg," says the hotel.

It explained that their "elegant design furniture" is far too sensitive and cannot support the weight of anyone upwards of that body mass.

Hotel operator Angelika Hargesheimer added: "When a guest over 130kg sits on it, they sit with one buttock and the chair does not last long."

Former Celebrity Big Brother scorcher Chloe Ayling got her social media fans drooling as she ditched her bra and struggled to use just one hand to shield and contain her ENORMOUS busters.

The 22-year-old added yet another skimpy picture to her Instagram feed, asking her army of 220,000 followers: "What's for dinner?" as she went topless while sat on a kitchen counter for the photo.

One fan said: "Them's the kind of dumplings I like to see I the kitchen!"

NIPPED IN THE PUD: Spider 'struck' at gas station (below)

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk

A DRUNK man who was arrested after stripping off naked at a petrol station claimed a spider had bitten his COCK.

Police heard the weird story after being called to the bizarre incident in the early hours.

They found Jesse Dearman, 29, inside the petrol station shop in West Monroe, Louisiana – completely nude.

He identified himself and said he was naked because he had been attacked by a spider and had removed his clothes for safety.

Officers then asked him if he had taken any dangerous and controlled substances.

Wild

He replied that he had, but did not know what it was.

He told an officer: "I smoked something earlier and it was pretty wild, but I couldn't tell you what it actually was."

"I was pretty spaced out, but I felt that spider bite okay."

"It was like having an injection of fire into my penis."

It's understood he was later treated at hospital

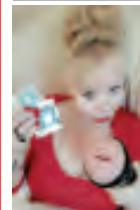

FIERY PENIS: Dearman

for a "minor" injury before being taken into custody.

Dearman has since appeared in court on a charge of disturbing the peace.

He has been released on bail.

RELAX, I don't think she'd let him sack you!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week LEXI LOWE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Village hooker plans to grass on me to missus!

Dear Lexi,

THERE had been a bit of a rumour going around our small village about a newly-arrived single woman who'd moved to the area

This would have been around January time and the story in the local pub was that she used to work in a massage parlour somewhere in the city and was more than happy to turn a few tricks. It got me thinking that I'd like to get to the bottom of the rumours – and the bottom of her, too!

Sick

She's a very elegant lady in her late 30s, who I'd seen out and about when she was walking her dogs up and down the village during the day.

So after the missus went to work one day soon after, I cried off work sick. Then, disguising myself as best as possible, I went round to this woman's place.

Luckily, it was set back from the road and I could approach it from behind some bushes so no-one could spot me – word travels fast round a village!

Anyway, I rang the doorbell. I know it was right out of order but somehow I was determined to find out if she had been, or still was, a hooker.

But to my surprise the door was answered not by her but by an older fella, who let me in and showed me into a downstairs room which was kitted out like a waiting room!

And to my even greater surprise there were three other fellas sitting around reading magazines and giving each other furtive looks – and they grinned when they saw me, feeling a little less guilty in their actions, since we all knew each other to certain degree.

The old guy told me to take an empty chair and that I could wait to see "Rose" – she'd be "done soon".

So I waited while, one after the other, the other men in this makeshift waiting room popped into the room next door and all eventually came out with big smiles on their faces.

When it was my turn I opened the door of the room next door and there she was, spread-eagled on the bed, totally naked.

I didn't fancy sex as I guessed that she'd just had several lengths of cock spewing their load inside her, so I pulled out my stiff Johnson and, with her nod of agreement, masturbated to completion all over her massive tits.

And it only cost me £20.

Since then I've been back a few times, even in defiance of the lockdown, but it seems the rest of village's women have found out what she's up to and want to kick her out!

And it's my missus that is organising the petition!

But "Rose" told me if I signed it she'd tell my wife what I've been up to! Help!

RT, via email

Lexi says...

CAN'T help you. You've made your bed, etc...

Dear Lexi,

MY wife has turned into a slave driver both inside and outside the bedroom.

I'm furloughed so she leaves me a list of duties to do during the day.

She also gives me sexual "duties" to perform both before and after work.

For instance, I get up at 6.30am and wake her by giving her oral sex.

This always starts with me fondling her vagina before going to work on her clitoris with my tongue.

Then I run her a bath, help her into her work clothes and even polish and put her shoes on her feet.

When she comes home I take off all her clothes and serve her a meal.

Once she's finished I have to strip off and lie on the floor at the foot of her chair and she uses my back as a foot stool while watching her favourite soap on the box.

I have to finger her during the adverts then I lie on my back while she massages my cock with her feet.

To be honest I'm a bit knackered by it all and sometimes just want to watch Coronation Street in peace.

Any suggestions?

C-J, Kent

Lexi says...

COME on, I bet you love it really. What would you do if she was too tired for sex, like most women after work?

I fear I'll pay for free escort fling!

Dear Lexi,

AS a sales rep for a big company I used to spend a lot of time on the road – and too many nights away from my missus.

I always stayed in decent hotels and until recently I had never cheated on her.

But the other month I got talking to a sophisticated blonde, flashing just the right amount of cleavage at the hotel bar.

We had a few drinks and got on so well we ended up in my room – after she suggested we take a bottle of wine upstairs with us to "carry on chatting".

But after she poured us both just one small glass of vino, she was on me like a rat up a drainpipe!

She had clearly done this sort of caper before and took the lead.

First she peeled off her top to let me tweak her stiff nipples.

Then I slipped my hand inside her wet panties and she pulled out my throbbing cock.

Next we went over to the bed and I slipped her damp knickers down, stuffing my tongue up her dripping minge as I did.

Then she grabbed my pulsating whanger, bent over and guided me into her love-box from behind. I banged front and back before shooting my wad over her arse.

After she left, though, I found her business card – and noticed she works for an escort agency.

So not only did I cheat on the wife but I did it with an escort – who didn't charge me!

What's that all about?

DF, East Sussex

Lexi says...

PUT it down as a freebie and treat your wife to a nice night out on the money that you saved yourself.

ALWAYS HOME OF TOPLESS BABES

I HAVE a confession...I get really turned on by the idea of being spit-roasted.

My wildest fantasy is flirting with some guys at a party, a joke being made about a gangbang and then us all getting carried away. About four guys are kissing and caressing me. I strip off and I'm wearing some sexy lacy underwear and high heels. I get on my knees and they all circle me and get their hard cocks out. I greedily begin sucking them all.

#MY SEX FANTASY

'As I kneel they circle me and get their cocks out!'

I love to be the centre of attention with all eyes on me, and them all desiring me. It's so animalistic!

The blokes all get more and more fired up until one of them pulls my thong aside and penetrates me, his big, thick dick sliding easily into my sopping hole.

I'm sucking one dick and wanking two fellas off while being pounded from behind.

They all take it in turns to f*ck me, and I come just as they all jizz all over my arse and tits.

Hmm I'm horny just thinking about it!

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVDS FOR £25 (was £75)

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day. Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of nosh as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

CHEF Peter Noone describes topless tease Saskia Jade as his ideal girl and said he would love nothing more than to wine and dine the glamour babe.

Peter, 41, from Southend, said he'd whip up a menu packed with aphrodisiacs in the hope of wooing the 21-year-old model.

Saskia, from Camberwell, south London boasts perky 32Cs which Peter says he can't enough of.

He said: "Her curves are simply stunning."

"I'd cook her oysters and provide a nice glass of red wine to get our juices really flowing..."

PARK ranger Nigel McIntosh has his eyes on naughty Natasha Nice.

The 46-year-old green-fingered fella, from Inverness, trims bushes for a living but would love a sneak a peek at Natasha, 30, has to offer.

Nigel said: "I often get lost in those 32Es while ogling her topless pictures – she's bloomin' gorgeous."

"My job involves looking after the parks in Inverness and I'm often alone in them at night."

"It'd be amazing if Anissa joined me one evening!"

SEXY Lauren Louise has a bizarre confession – she fancies the arse off Nick Knowles from DIY SOS!

The 26-year-old brunette babe, from Derby, is embarrassed by her secret crush – but still says she would love for the TV presenter (right) to get his hands on her 34D boobs.

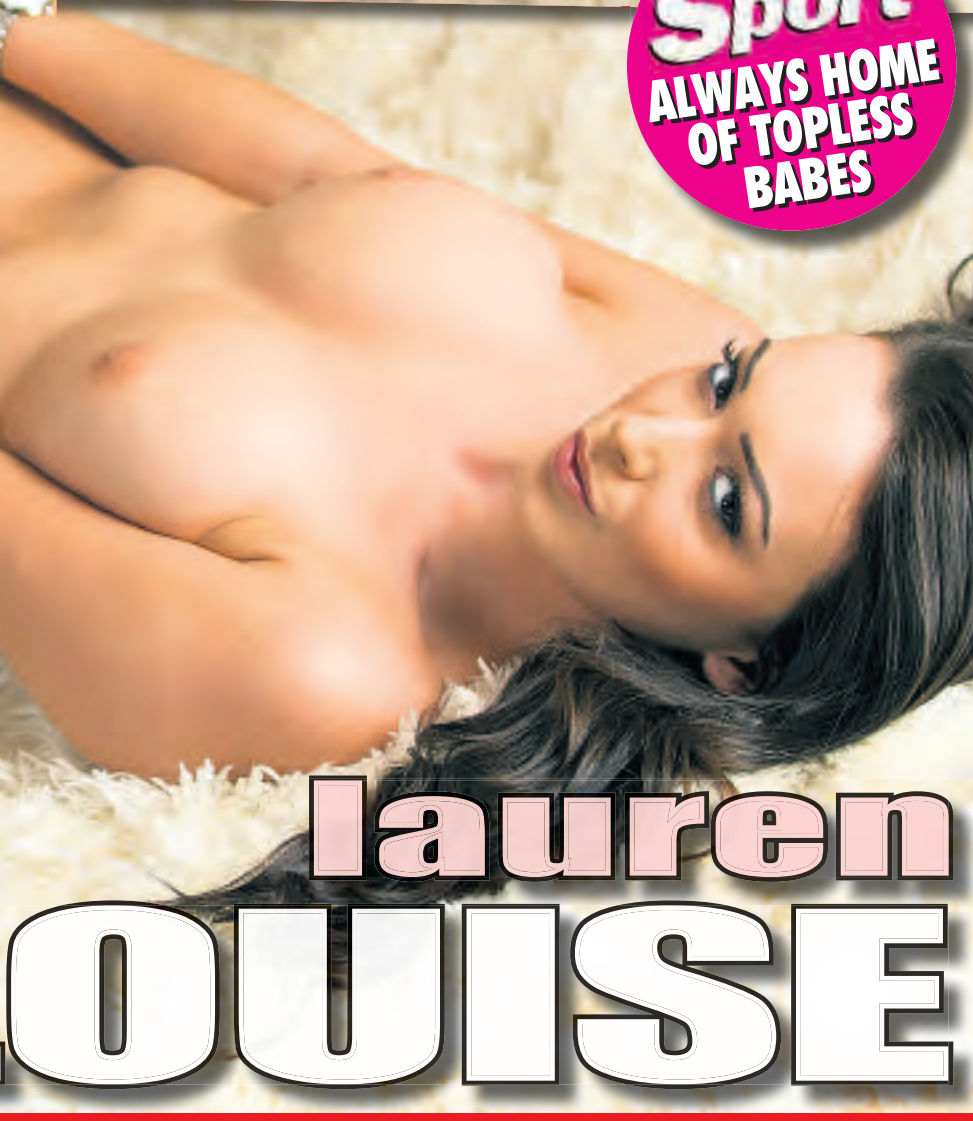

She said: “Everyone laughs when I tell them, but I fancy Nick Knowles. Maybe it’s because he helps so many people on DIY SOS.”

“I do love the show, but watching it is weird – I always end up crying at the end but also really horny!”

VOTE WINNER:
Rick Parry

It's all over for bottom two divisions

LEAGUES One and Two have been abandoned after a vote by member clubs.

It means promotion, relegation and the play-offs as usual based on points per game.

But it's still all systems go for the Championship to return on June 20.

It means proposals from Tranmere chairman Mark Palios and Barnsley to either remove relegation or modify the points-per-game model have fallen by the wayside.

It means there is now no chance of the campaign being declared null and void in any of the three divisions.

EFL chairman Rick Parry said: "While it has always remained the board's position to play the remainder of the season where possible, the decision reached at today's meeting follows a full and considered consultation period with our member clubs."

"The board has endeavoured to listen to all views and alternative approaches but understands that the decisions taken will not be met with universal satisfaction from all clubs."

Outbreak

"Today's outcome ensures that the league and its clubs remains as faithful as possible to the previously agreed regulations and that there is consistency in the approach adopted across the EFL in all divisions if required."

"It is clear that the challenges facing the league from the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic are unprecedented and I thank the contribution of EFL clubs in making this important determination."

SUNDERLAND GAFFER:
Phil Parkinson

Members of League One and Two have voted to end their seasons and decide final placings on points per game.

In League Two, only Forest Green wanted to carry on but the margin was tighter in League One.

How the play-offs are worked is yet to be decided but Coventry and Rotherham have gone up to the Championship.

Tranmere, Southend and Bolton have been dumped into the bottom tier.

The play-off sides are Wycombe, Oxford, Portsmouth and Fleetwood with Sunderland missing out in eighth spot.

In League Two, Swindon, Crewe and Plymouth are going up.

It's the drop into the National League for Stevenage with Barrow expected to be promoted back to the top four divisions for the first time since 1972.

STAYING PUT:
Lallana has penned a short-term deal

I'LL HELP REDS GET OVER LINE

Lallana signs Liverpool deal til end of season

ADAM Lallana will stay with Liverpool until the end of the season after penning a new deal.

The 32-year-old will remain at Anfield until the end of July before leaving on a free transfer.

It means the midfielder can play a full part in what he hopes will be a title run-in.

Lallana said: "I am really pleased to have the chance to finish this season — it means a lot to me and my family."

"Of course, one of the big personal positives about committing to this short-term extension is that I will now get to say goodbye to the people who mean so much to me in the right way. The gaffer has been different class and we've had an honest conversation about my role in the remaining weeks."

"I want to contribute in the most positive way possible that helps him and the team, not just for the remaining matches of this season — but also what they'll need to consider for next."

"I know the role I'll be playing for this team will help in what's going to be an extraordinary period — the likes of which none of us have ever experienced."

"I feel in my time at Liverpool I've always looked to do the right thing for the team, the manager and the club in every decision I've made."

"I think this one fits into that category as well, so I'm buzzing to be seeing out this campaign and hopefully get to celebrate something memorable with an amazing group of people."

A clutch of clubs are chasing Lallana on a free transfer including the likes of Arsenal and former team Southampton.

Kop boss Jurgen Klopp expects him to stay in the Premier League.

He said: "I know how highly sought after Adam is in this moment by other clubs who want him for next season, so for him this is a commitment to us and we are very appreciative to him for it."

"This is absolutely how it should be, too, because I am so pleased he will be with us to finish the job this season and have the farewell he deserves so much."

"Adam always puts the club first. He has been the first to express that my priority as a manager needs to be the players who are at this club for longer than just the rest of this season."

"He wants to be here to finish the job and do it properly, but it says everything about him that his biggest concern was blocking the progress and opportunity of a player who is under contract for next season also."

Pull off a Rahm raid as golf tees off again

RISING STAR: Jon Rahm

NO fans at Colonial for the return of PGA golf and the top five in the world will all tee up in a star-studded field for the Charles Schwab Challenge.

After almost three months off it is hard to know which players, if any, have been able to practice and who has benefited from the rest. Brooks Koepka was reported to be suffering from a sore knee when play was cancelled during the first round of the Players' Championship back in March.

Thus, the suggestion is that bets be kept to a minimum or we examine the statistics after 18 or 36 holes. Colonial is a Par 70 and Phil Mickelson will turn 50 on Tuesday.

Leftie is a dual previous winner and 125/1 with Unibet is an insult but I just can't imagine him fully wound up for his reappearance.

Jon Rahm is 12/1 with William Hill who are paying eight places and the Spanish ace has finished in the top five in two of his three previous visits.

He is one of two I have supported with the other Brian Harman who made an excellent start to the golfing year and has a couple of previous top-10s at Colonial.

The driver is unlikely to be the great ally it is in many American courses and Harman has, reportedly, rented a home

CharlieMcCann.co.uk
Tips, News and Betting Offers near Colonial fully two weeks ago. In horseracing speak he is likely to be well forward for his return.

★ Five meetings across Britain and Ireland today and we start across the Irish Sea where there are a couple of listed contests at Navan.

Millisle disappointed for Jessie Harrington in the 1000 Guineas on Sunday but she bounced back to land a treble at Leopardstown on Monday and I hope to see her One Voice (3.30) run a big race in the Salsabil Stakes for 3-y-old fillies over 10 furlongs.

Harrington saddles two – also unbeaten Silence Please – but one would imagine Sean Foley had the pick and he has opted for One Voice an impressive winner of her second start at Leopardstown when eased down to win by 3L from subsequent winner Auxilia who reappears.

Ballydoyle's Passion met trouble in running when well held in a hot May Hill at Doncaster back in September, but she has been niggled at when having her run stopped. This step up to 10f will suit and she is fitted with first-time cheekpieces.

She represents a big danger, but One Voice is one of a number of potential top class 3-y-old fillies in the Harrington yard with, arguably, the best of the bunch Albigna favourite for the Irish 1000 Guineas on Saturday evening.

There is the possibility of showers at Pontefract, but the ground was described as good to firm on Tuesday morning and conditions are unlikely to alter before or during racing.

Oleg is likely to be all the rage in the stayers' handicap, but Paul Nicholls' charge has been raised 13lbs for a win at Southwell at the beginning of March – his first race following a wind operation.

I can pass on a good word for Astro King (4.10) on debut at Wolverhampton. The colt works with some good horses at Freemason Lodge and Ryan Moore has been booked for this son of Kingman's first start.

Asbaagh (4.45) was drawn badly and was slowly away when third at Lingfield over 7f on her debut and the hope is that she has benefited considerably from the experience. The step up to today's extended mile should suit the filly who cost 450,000 gns as a yearling.

The 3-year-old handicap over the extended mile is a cracker and Bavardarges looks sure to have his supporters having finished second at Newcastle.

He has been raised a couple of pounds for that effort so is 21bs well in today, but I am sure there is much more to come from Amir Kabir (5.20) who was given a moderate ride at Kempton last time – albeit from a poor draw.

Debut

Jason Watson takes over in the saddle and I will be disappointed if he isn't much better than a 72-rated animal come the end of the year.

At Kempton I hope to see a big run from Camouflaged (9.00) who was forced to cover ground when runner up at Chelmsford on his handicap debut back in March. Adam Kirby takes over in the saddle this evening and he should be able to get a good position going into the first turn from an ideal draw in stall four.

The gelding is half-brother to four winners including Gp 1 scorer Royal Marine – a mark of 59 should not be beyond him and he looks the type who could run up a sequence.

CAN'T WAIT: Holder

WINDIES SETTLE IN AT OLD TRAFFORD

WEST INDIES skipper Jason Holder can't wait to get stuck into England.

The Windies have touched down on UK soil and are already safely locked away at their Old Trafford training base. The squad will stay in quarantine at Lancashire's home before a three-Test series starts on July 8.

Holder appreciates the effort of his players in coming from countries that have little to no cases of coronavirus to England.

He is happy to play his part in getting cricket's show back on the road. The all-rounder said: "This is a huge step forward in cricket and in sports in general."

"A lot has gone into the preparations for what will be a new phase in the game. I'm happy for the support and well-wishes we have been receiving from our loyal and dedicated fans once it was confirmed the tour would go ahead. This has been a source of great inspiration."

"We have a fantastic group of cricketers, coaches, medical staff and support staff and I know everyone is eagerly looking forward to the start of the first match."

"There is expectation in the air that we will defend the Wisden Trophy and we will certainly put in the work and give it our all to keep hold of it."

The Tests against England will be played behind closed doors.

Strangely, the first game is at the Ageas Bowl in Southampton with the final two matches at Old Trafford.

If all goes well, Pakistan will be the next visitors and we could even see Australia and Ireland coming over for a one-day series.

The Irish side are in full training for their scheduled matches against the Three Lions next month.

HOME SKIPPER: Joe Root

Skipper Andy Balbirnie said: "I'll be watching this West Indies series closely, following how they get on with training and protocols for that."

"But as far as I'm concerned, I'm desperately keen to play. "I'd be hopeful that all will go well with the West Indies series, and I think it will have heard what the ECB can do with the bio-secure facilities."

"It sounds really well-planned. I'm looking forward to getting over at the end of July."

Delay helps England says Southgate

GARETH Southgate says England will have a better chance of winning next summer's Euros.

The tournament was supposed to be kicking off this week but has been postponed by 12 months.

Southgate is happy about that because it gives time for his squad to develop. He also had major fitness doubts over key men like Marcus Rashford and Harry Kane should the Euros have started on time.

By JOHN ANTHONY

Southgate said: "At one point we were possibly looking at being without Marcus and Harry, or at the very best them not having a lot of football."

"We have got certain positions where we are strong and certain positions where we don't have that strength in depth.

"Some of those things will be better in a year, but other teams will be in the same."

"I'm looking at the German league and people like Kai Havertz and their young players will develop as well."

"Difficult to predict, the age of the team you would hope would be better in a year's time but we have to go and prove that on the pitch."

And he's hopeful of making the most of home games.

Southgate added: "It's only a true advantage in the latter stages of the competition if we are good enough to get to that point. But without doubt we have to view it positively."

Southgate
